

JUNE SOLNIT SALE, MSW, is the mother of three, grandmother of two and an active child care advocate, author and consultant, with a special interest in public policy issues concerning children and their families. She has chaired the California Child Development Programs Advisory Committee; the Los Angeles Mayor's Advisory Committee on Child Care and has served on many national, state and local committees and panels.

She has written extensively on child and family issues, including being Executive Editor of the UCLA Working Parents Newsletter; Co-author of the Working Parents Handbook (Simon and Schuster, 1996); FamilyEdge Expert and editor of the Working Parents section of FamilyEdge.com and Knowledge Kids Network; and Editor of "Family Child Care Handbook" for the California Child Care Resource & Referral Network.

Previously she was Educational Coordinator for the first Los Angeles County Head Start Program, 1966; Executive Director of UCLA Child Care Services for 13 years; Faculty member of UCLA and Pacific Oaks College; The Director of the Pacific Oaks Community Family Day Care Project; and Interim Director of Child Development Services for the Santa Monica/Malibu Unified School District.

Currently she is a member and past Chair of LA's BEST Advisory Board (After-school program serving 20,000 children in Los Angeles Unified School District); a CASA volunteer in the family court program for children (Court Appointed Special Advocate); and a member of Stone Soup Board (After-school program serving 4,000 children) and the Samuel Goldwyn Children's Center.